

February 9, 2011

---

NEW DEVELOPMENT

Designer tapped for Apthorp

Andrew Ratner, executive vice president of Broadwall Management of Apthorp LLC (an affiliate of the Feil Organization), and the building's managing agent announced the appointment of interior designer Stephen Sills as creative director for The Apthorp.

Sills, an internationally celebrated Interior designer whose clients have included Vera Wang and Anna Wintour, will set the tone for the Apthorp's design aesthetic.

He has been entrusted with selecting colors, finishes, appointments and cabinetry for the landmark's public and private spaces.

"The grand and gracious style of the Apthorp is much like a classic Parisian apartment with its Old World proportions and intricate detailing not found anywhere else in New York," said Sills.

"It serves as an incredible canvas. My goal is to create an archetypal apartment where neoclassical and modern motifs combine into a contemporary and multifunctional home."

Recent Sills projects have included the St. Regis Hotel in Washington, D.C.

STEPHEN SILLS